

StoreNext Connected DSD

Big ROI from direct store delivery comes to small stores

With Connected DSD you don't need a back office system anymore to take advantage of the huge savings that come from DSD.

Time and time again it's been proved – DSD provides the greatest return from any single technology investment available to the independent grocer.

Vendors regularly take advantage of small operators with pre-deal loading and costing errors that result in a river of dollars constantly flowing out your front door. So why is only one out of three independent grocers taking control of their incoming costs with DSD?

Well, it's not because DSD is too complicated. And it's not that it takes too much time. And it's not that it's too tough to set up and operate. Instead, the reason is the normally high start-up costs for servers, back office software and hand-held equipment. But we've taken care of all that with StoreNext's new Connected DSD.

With StoreNext C-DSD, you don't need a back office system in your store, or the servers to run it on. A single low subscription is all you pay; without the up-front costs of a standard DSD package, your savings begin on day one. And as with all StoreNext Connected Services, the data resides in your private area of StoreNext's server farm and we supply all the horsepower you need to operate your DSD lightning-fast in the store. It's all in the wire!

StoreNext C-DSD offers you:

- DSD Receiving on the iPad hand-held PC (the same iPad unit you can use for PocketOffice and other in-store functions)
- Tools for auditing and updating receiving documents
- Connected Services special DSD item catalog
- Supplier searches by name, code or item scan
- Availability of item name, case, cost and quantity/case data upon receiving scan
- Quantity update
- Exceptions for free, returned etc. items and credits/surcharges
- List sorts by UPC, name or scanned sequence
- Ability to create return documents for the supplier.

Even the best-managed stores are astonished when they discover their previous losses. So don't wait for the day when you have time or budget to implement a full back office. Call your StoreNext Dealer today and plug into StoreNext Connected DSD tomorrow.
